Sera Gamble

Executive Producer, "The Magicians"

Sera Gamble is the writer and executive producer of Syfy's breakout fantasy drama "The Magicians." Based on the bestselling novels by Lev Grossman, the sophomore season will make its highly-anticipated return on Wednesday, January 25 at 9/8c.

Gamble's first foray into television was an unconventional one: she was a screenwriter finalist on the second season of HBO's "Project Greenlight." She then went on to write and produce the CW series "Supernatural" for its first seven seasons, rising to executive producer in Season Five. She also served as a staff writer on the ABC series "Eyes."

Most recently, Gamble served as writer and executive producer of NBC's "Aquarius."

A first-generation American born in New York City, Gamble spent her early childhood in Cincinnati before moving to Redlands, California. She attended the UCLA School of Theater, Film and Television. Gamble currently lives in Los Angeles, is a dog person and enjoys writing essays, poetry, and fiction. Two of her stories have been anthologized in the Best American Erotica series, and her work has appeared in journals such as Washington Square and on Nerve.
